The Bachelor's Ride.

"Rub that horse down well, and don't feed him until he is perfectly cool." The words were addressed to the hostler of the hotel in a suburban village by a middle-aged gentleman, dressed in the height of fashion, as he alighted from an elegant black horse,
and tossed the reins to an attendant.

"And now," addressing the waiter,
show me into a private parlor.
A well-dressed man, who rides a handsome nag, is sure of a warm welcome in the hotel of a suburban village. Our friend found a well-furnished parlor, with flowers and vases on the mantle, and the blinds—for it was warm Summer afternoon—carefully closed, while the open windows permitted a free current of air. The waiter remained near the door.

"Any orders, sir?" who comes in that handsome pony pheton in the yard?
"A young widow, sir."
"Go along, and shut the door after you," said the waiter. "I'll be so floored!" "I'm glad I don't know her!" I am certainly fortunate to have attained the age of forty without any such outrageous incidents. I think peculiarly not ill-looking. I think that I must admit that I should make what those busy-bodies—the match-makers—call a "good match." But thank my stars! I've preserved my independence and content so far, and am not likely to now. No, no; Jack Champion was born to live and die an old bachelor. And now for the newspaper while my horse is baiting."

Another horseman alighted at the hotel from a horse reeking with sweat and scarcely able to put one foot before the other.

"Pat," said the rider, a young man fashionably attired, "put my mare in the stable, and do the best you can for her."

"Och! Mister Travers, and she's kilt intirely!"
"I'm afraid so."
"What made you crowd her so?"
"No matter. Is my sister here?"
"Yes, sir. Bill, show this gentleman into the ladies' parlor; he wants to see Mrs. Leslie."

"Ah, Bill!" said the young man
"you here?"

"Yes," said the young lady; "but what the matter with you?"
"Nothing, Bill—nothing."
"Something is certainly the matter."
"I've been riding hard."
"That's not all. O tell me what has happened?"

"I must be brief, for I'm pursued."
"Pursued?"
"Yes, you know that fellow who insulted you in the coach, the other day," replied the young man. "Well, I've been on his track more than a week, and he's still on the loose. To-day, and gave him a confounded horse-whipping. I handled him roughly, I'm afraid. He instantly got out a warrant against me, and not wishing to get into court till I was ready, I mounted my horse and gave the officers the slip. Perhaps I'd better have stayed and braved it out; but, having taken this step, I'm bound to hafl-fence. To-morrow I'll surrender myself. Now, Bill, if your pony will only take me to your uncle's in five minutes, I'm your man."

"Poor Charlie couldn't do it," said
the lady.

"Then I'll make another arrangement. By-and-by I'll meet you in the villa."

From the drawing room the young man rushed into the stable.

"Bill," said he, "give me a horse—a good one."
"Sorra a horse we've got in the stable, except the black, and that belongs to a gentleman who can just ride to himself. Och, but he's a good one, tho', yer anner, 2:40 to a mile."

"I'll borrow him," said Travers, jumping on his back. Tell Bill to drive
the gentleman to the villa and he
shall have him again.

"But, yer anner—" remonstrated
Pat, amazed. Travers had put spurs to his horse and was off like a thunder-
bolt. "Oh, wirra, wirra!" groaned
the hostler, what will become of me?
I'm undintirely!"

Shortly Mrs. Leslie rang for the pheton, and took the reins. "All
right," she said, nodding with a smile
to Pat. "Give me his head."

"Och, but he's a good one, tho',
yer anner, 2:40 to a mile."

"I'll borrow him," said Travers, jumping on his back. Tell Bill to drive
the gentleman to the villa and he
shall have him again.

"But, yer anner—" remonstrated
Pat, amazed. Travers had put spurs to
his horse and was off like a thunder-
bolt. "Oh, wirra, wirra!" groaned
the hostler, what will become of me?
I'm undintirely!"

Shortly Mrs. Leslie rang for the pheton, and took the reins. "All
right," she said, nodding with a smile
to Pat. "Give me his head."

"Och, but he's a good one, tho',

"But, yer anner—" remonstrated
Pat, amazed. Travers had put spurs to
his horse and was off like a thunder-
bolt. "Oh, wirra, wirra!" groaned
the hostler, what will become of me?
I'm undintirely!"

"Do you reside far from here,
madam?" asked the captain.

"Not very far. The pony can mend his pace if you are in a hurry."

"Not for the world; the pace seems to be a very fast one."
The widow turned those bewitching
black eyes of hers upon the old bachelor and smiled. It was over with him. When he sprang out at the gate of the villa and touched the fairy fingers of the widow, as he assisted her to alight, his heart was retrievably lost. A red faced old gentleman in a dressing-room received them at the door.

"My friend, Captain Champion,
uncle," said the widow. "Excuse me
for a moment, sir."
"Very happy to see you, sir," said
the old gentleman. "Walk in—warm day."

"Very," said the captain, and, indeed, his looks seemed to corroborate
the statement, for he was as red as a peony.

The captain and the old gentleman
were soon chatting together familiarly, and the former felt himself completely
at home. In a few minutes the captain,
in this manner, the host excused himself,
and the old bachelor was left alone.

A dreamy reverie was interrupted by the sound of voices in the hall.
The captain easily recognized the young widow's, and a glance through the half open door showed him that her companion was a very handsome young man.

"There, dear Belle," said the young man, "don't scold me any more. I very sorry," he added, "that we cannot give me a kiss." A hearty smack followed. It was a veritable genuine kiss;
the captain saw and heard it. A pang shot through his heart.

"The only woman I could love," he said to himself; "and she is engaged."
The widow tripped into the room. If she was handsome in her carriage, she was bewitching in her drawing-room attire. Champion could not see the whole of that delicate fairy foot.

"My dear sir," said she, "your horse
is a good service. (Champion arose.)
But," she added, "if you will stay and take dinner with us my uncle will be very much gratified, and I shall be pleased."

"The coquette!" thought Champion.
"I am obliged to you, madam," he said, "but I have another engagement."

"Then we cannot hope to detain you, sir; but you must allow me to present you to my brother."

The handsome young man made his appearance and shook hands with the bachelor.

THE RAIN.—But few of our readers have ever witnessed in the month of October so copious a rainfall as we have had during the last week. Three and ten hundredths inches is the measurement since last Saturday, and ten hundredths on the 15th last, makes a total of three and twenty-six hundredths inches for the season. The damage that has resulted in the State must be great, for in this county it would require several thousand dollars to cover all the loss. Thomas & Hunt and F. S. Freeman had a great quantity of wheat in sacks exposed to the storm that has been somewhat damaged—probably not seriously. Exposed hay also suffers considerably and the dry feed for stock is ruined; but this is partially offset by the fact that the grass will very soon start up and furnish an abundance of feed. R. B. Blowers met with a serious loss from the storm which spoiled at least one thousand dollars' worth of his choicest raisins that were not yet fully cured.

NEED OF AN ENGINE.—The Secretary of the Sacramento Fire Department was in our town the other day, and from him we learned that since they have introduced the paid department system and steam fire engines, their hand engines are laid up and for sale at low prices. Here is an excellent opportunity to procure an engine to protect our town from the fiery element. The Town Trustees ought to act in this matter. We have a water supply and should by all means have hydrants put in and a fire engine to use in case of need. One of those Sacramento second-hand engines could be procured for one thousand dollars or less, according to class and capacity. Don't wait till the destroyer comes, without preparation or means of defence, but be prepared to fight and conquer. It can be done if the proper persons will only make a start in the matter.

COUNTY COURT.—The October term of this Court, Judge Hutton presiding, has been in session throughout the week, and the following is a summary of its business:
The case of the People vs. Barnes was continued for the term, and was set for trial the first Monday in February, 1875, the bail being reduced to $500.
People vs. Wood—Continued for the term.
People vs. Hammond—Plea of not guilty withdrawn and by consent plea of guilty entered. Time waived and sentenced to pay a fine of $100.
People vs. Baldwin—Continued for term; bail reduced to $1000.

LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.—The quarterly meeting of the Library Association will be held at the Library Room on Monday evening next. Every member is requested to be present.
MRS. J. M. KELLEY, Sec'y.

BASE BALL CLUB. ATTENTION!—There will be a meeting of the Athletic Base Ball Club on Saturday evening next. All the members are requested to be present.
F. A. PEDLER, President.

GAME FOR SATURDAY.—Two of Woodland's base ball clubs the "Young Pacifics" and the "Silver Stars," have arranged to play a match game in Reed's pasture on Saturday.

EARLY SNOW.—There was three feet of snow on the summit of the Sierras on Tuesday morning. It is feared that large numbers of cattle and sheep have been lost.

Base Ball.

Saturday last two games of base ball were played in this place by two Sacramento and two Woodland Clubs. The first was by the Capital Juniors of Sacramento and the Alerts of Woodland. The game was commenced at 10 A. M. and continued three hours and a half, the Juniors winning, as will be seen by the following score:

Capital Juniors.	Alerts.
Runs each inning.	Runs each inning.
1. 0	1. 0
2. 0	2. 0
3. 0	3. 0
4. 0	4. 0
5. 0	5. 0
6. 0	6. 0
7. 0	7. 0
8. 0	8. 0
9. 0	9. 0
Total..... 0	Total..... 0

At 2:30 another game was played by the Young Americans of Sacramento and the Athletics of Woodland, which lasted some three hours. This is the second game by these two Clubs, the former having occurred but a few days since at Sacramento, when the Athletics won; but this time our boys were not to be so fortunate, as is shown by the following score:

Young Americans.	Athletics.
Runs each inning.	Runs each inning.
1. 0	1. 0
2. 0	2. 0
3. 0	3. 0
4. 0	4. 0
5. 0	5. 0
6. 0	6. 0
7. 0	7. 0
8. 0	8. 0
9. 0	9. 0
Total..... 0	Total..... 0

A third game will be played to decide between the Young Americans and the Athletics, which will probably take place soon if the weather remains favorable. The Athletics will fix the time, which has not yet been done. A large number of persons witnessed the play in both games, and enjoyed it hugely. The best of feeling exists between both the Sacramento Clubs and their competitors of this place, and the acquaintance now formed will no doubt result in more games of the same sort.

AUCTION SALE.—An auction sale of fifty tons of hay, twenty head of horses, and a similar lot of cattle, a lot of hogs, and a great quantity of farming implements and machinery, wagons, buggy, harness, household furniture, etc., will take place at the ranch of J. W. Chiles, on Willow Slough, seven and a half miles southwest of Woodland, on Thursday, November 5th, 1874.

CATHOLIC SERVICES.—Rev. Father Kaiser has been absent for two weeks in San Juan Bautista, where a retreat was given to the clergy of that place and Los Angeles, but has now returned and announces services in the new Catholic church of this place at 10 A. M. on Sunday next (All Saints Day), and in Davisville at 12 M.

BOGGY ROBE LOST.—A wolf-skin boggie robe was taken from a buggy at Peckman Bros.' stables on Friday night last, for the return of which the above stables a liberal reward will be paid. The robe was a light gray color with spotted red lining.

INSTITUTE.—The teachers of the county are called to meet on Saturday next, at the Court House, to make arrangements for the Annual Teachers' Institute. There should be a large representation of teachers at this meeting.

INSTALLATION.—The new officers of Dodona Grove U. A. O. D. will be installed on Monday evening next, at which time a full turn out of members is particularly desired. By order of the N. A. J. J. McKenna, Sec'y.

NICKLEBURG & BRO.—We call attention to the new advertisement of this well established firm. They are up with the times in their styles and prices, and consequently do a large trade. Give them a call.

CHANGES.—Mr. Oppenheimer, who has for the past year been engaged as clerk in Lewald's dry goods house is about to take up his residence in San Francisco. Billy Ogburn has taken his place at Lewald's.

FRIDAY'S RACES.—The running race which occurred over Brown's track on Friday last, between "Langford," "Kitty" and "Buster," was won by the latter.

GETTING READY.—The ground is already wet enough for plowing and will be likely to remain so from this time forward. Farmers will soon be busy plowing.

RACES.—A trotting race will come off at Knight's Landing on Saturday, Oct. 31st, for a purse of $50. See advertisement for particulars.

ADDRESS.—Rev. P. J. Kaiser will be at Davisville during the next three weeks, where all communications for him should be addressed.

TOWN TAXES.—See notice of Marshal in regard to taxes. If they are not paid before Nov. 1st, parties will be published as delinquent.

ALEXANDER & CO. have just opened a heavy lot of goods for fall and winter trade and are doing a very large business. Give them a call.

DELAYED.—The train from Sacramento Tuesday night was delayed one hour in consequence of the breaking of a coupling.

IN SESSION.—The Grand Division of the Sons of Temperance of California is now in session in San Francisco.

TAXES.—Taxpayers are referred to the Tax Collector's notice in another column.

FINE CHURCH.—The Methodists of Davisville have just completed a fine church building which adds much to the appearance of the town.

The Source of Many Ills.
Of all the ailments, bodily and mental, which torment the human family could be traced to their primary source, it would probably be found that three-fourths of them originated in the failure of the stomach and the other organs by which the food is converted into nutriment and applied to the purposes of life, to perform the tasks allotted to them by nature, vigorously regularly. This being the case the vast importance of a medicine which compels these organs to do their whole duty thoroughly and efficiently, becomes at once apparent. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters may be truly characterized as a preparation of this kind, indeed as the only one which can be implicitly relied on as combining the properties of a stomachic, an alterative and an aperient in such proportions as to produce simultaneously the desired effect upon the disordered stomach, liver and intestines. This conclusion is warranted by the celebrity and certainty with which the Bitters afford relief in chronic cases of dyspepsia torpidity of the liver and constipation. The fact that these complaints and others that grow out of them, has at last, it is hoped, been thoroughly exploded. The sick, during the last hundred years have swallowed thousands of tons of mercury, economy, gamboge, calomel, oil, jalap and a host of thousands of graves have been prematurely filled thereby. But ever since the principal of renovation, as embodied in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, was introduced into the world, it has steadily and surely effected a cure in every case of chronic dyspepsia, torpidity of the liver and constipation, and is now the only remedy to increase the demand for the wholesome stimulant, tonic and alterative which for twenty-five years has triumphed over all opposition and is now the most popular medicine in the western hemisphere.

At Cantonwood, Yolo county, October 19th, 1874, Etta Hadden, daughter of James and Mollie Hadden, aged 1 year and 1 month.
Near Davisville, October 28th, of paralysis, W. R. Wright, aged 37 years, 2 months, Native of England.

Mr. Wright was a pioneer, having emigrated to California in 1832. He has been a respected citizen of Yolo county for twenty-one years. His death is lamented by a large circle of friends. He leaves a wife and family who have the sympathies of the community in their bereavement.

Bless God for Rain.

"Bless God for rain!" the good man said,
And wiped away a grateful tear;
That we may have our daily bread,
He drops a shower upon us here.
Our Father, Thou who dwellest in Heaven,
We thank thee for the pearly shower!
The blessed present Thou dost send,
To man, and beast, and bird, and fowl.

The dusty earth with lips apart,
Looked up where rolled an orb of flame
Although a prayer came from its heart
For rain to come, and lo, it came!
The sun came with its golden beams,
And tiny plumes with flowers filled
Send up their praise of heaven's grace,
For precious drops the clouds distilled.

The modest grass is fresh and green;
The brooklet swells its song again;
The meadow's angel voices begin
To sing a hymn of praise to God.
There is a rainbow in the sky,
Upon the arch where tempests tread;
Just like the tears of grateful joy,
It is the autograph of God.

Up where the heavy thunders rolled,
And clouds of fire were swept along,
The sun rides in his golden throne,
And soaring larks dissolve in song.
The rills that gush from mountain side,
Flow trickling to the verdant base—
Just like the tears of grateful joy,
It is the autograph of God.

Great King of Peace, deign now to bless;
The windows of thy grace be open;
Shower down the rain of blessing,
And wash away the stain of war;
Let the meadow and the mountain side,
In beauty mark the moral sky,
Like that fair sign unrolled above,
But not like this to be and die.

A CALIFORNIA Pioneer Society is about to be organized in Los Angeles.

Six teen holding engines are in operation in the construction of the Palace Hotel.

It is estimated that there are three hundred men engaged in active mining pursuits in Napa County.

Considerable loss has resulted from the rains to careless farmers who neglected to house their hay and grain.

The provisions in the market did not give out. They had as much as at the end of the voyage when the season started.

A newspaper is the only instrument which can drop the same thought into a thousand minds at the same moment.

The Central Pacific Railroad Company is using its best endeavors to stop thieves from robbing overland passengers.

There are now over four miles of drives in the Golden Gate Park, San Francisco, and three hundred acres under cultivation.

It is believed that the three Deputy Assessors of San Francisco forced and sold poll-tax receipts to the value of $100,000.

Eight more bars of bullion were shipped from the Callista mine on Saturday, and shipments hereafter will be regular.

Dr. J. C. Ayer has been nominated for Congress by the Republicans of the Seventh Congressional District of Massachusetts.

Beef cattle are now purchased in the ranges near Yreka at three cents per pound. This is lower than they have been for several years past.

MR. PETERSON, of San Jose, has contracted to furnish Ralston & Sharon 2,000,000 brick, to be used in the construction of the Palace Hotel in San Francisco.

A Times correspondent at Bombay telegraphs that it is estimated that 2,000 persons were killed in the town and district of Midnapore during the recent cyclone.

COMPLAINT is made that the San Francisco savings banks charge new depositors $2 for a pass book. The Sacramento savings banks make no charge for such books.

THE Carson City Mint is being enlarged. Upward of half a million dollars will be coined this month—the largest amount of work done in one month since the mint started.

WHEN DR. COX was living in Brooklyn, he kept a large dog. Being somewhat given to hating the dog, he placed over his kennel the inscription, "Teeth inserted here."

THE Chico Enterprise says: J. R. Kenned, shipped two tons of almonds about this week. The almond crop on the Bidwell ranch will approximate between four and five tons for the season.

THE carnival at the Mechanics' Institute Pavilion on the 24th was attended by about 6,000 persons. It was the grandest masquerade ever had on the coast. The galleries were crowded with spectators.

THE grave of William Penn is in a graveyard at a Quaker meeting house at Jordan, a hamlet about seven miles from Uxbridge, which is a market town and railway station seven miles from London.

THERE is a firm of brass and copper wire manufacturers in Scotland who have made a penny go further than ever the thriftest Scotchman could make it, having drawn it out to 2,700 feet, or more than half a mile of wire.

THE drought in Alabama threatens to prove quite serious in its consequences, especially in the influence upon the cotton and sugar crops. The failure of the "latter rain" will, it is thought, reduce the cotton crop one-third.

A SHOEMAKER has just died in a lunatic asylum in England in whose stomach were found after death one pound ten ounces of iron nails, several pieces of scrap iron and an nail without a handle. There were 1,029 shoe nails.

WHEN you make a mustard plaster use no water whatever, but the mustard with the white of an egg, and the result will be a plaster that will "draw" perfectly, but will not produce a blister even though it is allowed to remain upon that part.

JAMES SIMMONS, of the old cotton State, is now prospecting in the gold fields of Idaho, in search of good locations for homes for himself and a colony of depicted Mississippi neighbors who have been driven from their homes by the government. The cotton State's loss will prove the Golden State's gain.

The concurrent testimony from all sources of information, fixes the probable amount of this year's cotton crop at 3,500,000 bales. It is said that notwithstanding the drought during August, only once since the war has the country produced so large and so fine a crop, and that was in 1870, when the total yield was 3,347,000 bales.

The Fresno Express says that the law passed at the last session of the Legislature, and popularly known as "the Tuttle School Bill," is calculated in its practical operation to destroy the common schools in certain counties of the State, and that so far as Fresno and the neighboring counties are concerned, it will effectively accomplish that object.

The first cargo of this season's California wheat arrived at Liverpool, October 21st. The Bulletin says: "The manifested value of the wheat by this vessel at the time of departure was $175. The vessel was chartered at $200, which makes 90c per sack. At the time of arrival out, the average rate in Liverpool was 10s. 6d, thus showing a profit on the cargo, independent of commissions, insurance, interest and expenses."

THE altitudes will have to be revised again, Mount Blanc is no longer the highest of the European mountains. It must now be his "old and arid" before Mount Elbrus on the European side of the Caucasian watershed. The height of Mount Blanc is variously estimated at from 15,720 to 15,794 feet, but the latter is the correct figure.

AYER'S
Cherry Pectoral!

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of millions of mankind
and become household
words, but many nations,
must have extraordinary virtues. Cherry Pectoral, has no one ever so wide a reputation, or maintained
it so long, as AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL.

CHERRY PECTORAL is public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effective cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the Cherry Pectoral has really robbed the dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded. The remedy has been taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by its timely protection. The prudent should not neglect the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR!

RESTORING GRAY HAIR
TO ITS
Natural Vitality and Color!

Advancing years,
sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predis-
position, all turn
gray hair, and either of them impedes the hair to shed prematurely,
and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the native organs to healthy activity, and preserves
both the hair and its beauty. This remedy weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and grows to its natural length. It gives lively expression; falling hair is checked and retained; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resumes their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions the hair grows to its natural length.
As a dressing for ladies' hair, the Vigor is prized for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.
